Chapter 1 : Atlantis, Alien Visitation & Genetic Manipulation Quotes by Michael Tsarion

Atlantis, Alien Visitation, and Genetic Manipulation 1 CHAPTER 1 From the End of Heaven There are more things in heaven and Earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in thy philosophy.

Where personal development meets the New Age of Awareness! Many of you already know that I have read well over books beginning around I mainly read personal development books back then because that was what I was in to. From there I delved into metaphysical topics like numerology, tarot cards, dream interpretation, psychic attunement and so on. As my thirst for knowledge expanded, so did my reading materials. That book was titled: The book was incredible and it just made me hungry for more information from this David Icke fellow. So much so that I ended up reading and buying every David Icke book that I could get my hands on even if that meant going to multiple book stores in one day. Most David Icke books are quite large and I admit to skipping through some chapters to get to the more juicy stuff which his books have plenty of. As a result, many of the questions about why the world is the way it is The human matrix not so much the natural world were answered. Granted, I am the first to tell you to not believe everything you read. I also will be the first to remind you to bring your full conscious awareness with you at all times and not to just believe something just because you read it or were taught it. Much of the information I read from Icke took me to other alternative researchers like: I really began to connect the dots about the unnatural nature of our human reality through the brilliant work of these authors. One area that really peaked my interest was the creation of modern man and modern civilization and the whole Extraterrestrial intervention thing. Eventually I stumbled upon the idea that modern man was not created by happenstance. One story I read stated that modern man is a creation of Extraterrestrial intervention. Just like in Star Wars or Star Trek, most of the characters were in fact human even though they came from planets other than Earth. The first story about extraterrestrial intervention I read goes something like this. An old ET civilization had eroded the atmosphere on their planet Nibiru. After many years, or decades or longer they finally found a way to fix the gaping hole in the ozone layer. The key ingredient was gold, or goldust. They found out if they could condense the gold into a fine powder and spray it into the atmosphere than this would indeed fix their ozone layer debacle. There was one major problem though. Nibiru had almost no gold on it. Two brothers, Enki and Enlil “ who happened to be the sons of the King and Queen, had the job of locating gold on a nearby planet. After some time they found one planet that was rich with gold. After some time of exploring Earth they were able to find some areas that were particularly rich with gold. One of those areas is located in South Africa in which to this very day there are very old, long and deep perfectly made tunnels that no one can explain who made them. After the scouting mission to Earth, many fleets of Nibiruans came to Earth to begin mining for gold. No one knows for sure how long the Nibiruans did their own mining for gold, but one thing is for sure. They eventually rebelled against it. The Nibiruan workforce were tired of working in those hot, humid, mines “ their bodies were not built for the harsh conditions of the Earth. Apparently Nibiru had a consistent year round temperature, neither too hot or too cold. Since Enki and Enlil were in charge on the Earth mission they had to come up with a plan before their workforce bailed on them. Enki being the Scientist of the two decided to make slaves out of the humans that were already on the planet at this time Homo Erectus. The Nibiruans viewed them as mountain people. Kind of slow, kind of quiet, kind of primitive in their eyes. They created a clone Adamu which was a mixture of their DNA with that of the Homo erectus creature that already existed on Earth when they arrived. After some time of playing God with the genes of primitive man they eventually were able to create a slave force to mine the gold for them. In fact, the Nibiruans created some humans that were almost a complete genetic match to them. For the record, it is forbidden to interfere with the Inhabitants on any planet by spacefaring beings like the Nibiruans. Professor Hermann Oberth, the father of rocket science, openly believed the planet Earth to be watched by beings from other planets. Indeed, ancient records also confirm that visitations were a relatively common occurrence. Eventually the children of the Gods The direct genetic descendants later became the Kings and Queens of old and everyone else got to be the peasants. If you think this idea is made up, or you are wondering where the proof is, it was all written in stone on Sumerian Clay Tablets. The same tablets were we get much of the Old Testament from. Yes some of the facts were lost in translation, but the story still holds true, that Earth was visited by spacefaring beings, Those who came from the sky as it is written and were referred to as gods because of their knowledge, technology and creative abilities. Since the s, when more scholars became attracted to the Sumerian translations of clay tablets polluting the basements of many museums of the world, a whole new wave of information started to emerge. Suddenly we were exposed to a whole new civilization that preceded all others, which spoke a different language and made references to times before their own from where all their knowledge was derived. Erich Von Daniken truly popularized the whole concept of extraterrestrial activity on Earth in prehistoric times already in the s with his book: But it was Zecharia Sitchin who truly pushed the deciphered Sumerian cuneiform text to the greatest heights in his nine books dealing primarily with the content of the Sumerian tablets and the eroded truth behind them. These scriptures all have one thing in common, and that is their reference to the Sumerian gods who came from distant lands and gave the early humans all their knowledge. There is much more to this story and you can read more here. Other Authors like Wes Penre claim that Enlil never stepped foot on Earth and that his wicked half-brother Enki and his son Marduk have been running the show here on Earth for a long time much to the detriment of human beings. Michael Tsarion –” The Destruction of Atlantis I stumbled upon Michael Tsarion a few years ago; I was even his friend on Facebook for a hot minute before he removed his personal page. I just dabbled with his work a few times then changed course for a while until I stumbled upon him again this past summer. His website is MichaelTsarion. Michael Tsarion has been at this work since the age of 13 years old. He grew up in Belfast Northern Ireland with an Irish father who was into politics and his mother was a famous clairvoyant from the Himalayas. He cites some of his sources as the Ancient Sumerian Texts , Enuma Elish , The Book of Enoch including parts that were left out Apocryphical books , The Bundahishn , Zecharia Sitchin , Celtic records and legends, channelers and many suppressed authors. In his You Tube video talking about the destruction of Atlantis, Michael speaks about our not too distant past. I am writing some of this from memory so some of it may be off a bit. Either way, always double check any information you read or hear! Do your homework as they say. They actually took refuge on Earth while pretending to be on another planet that was once located between Mars and Jupiter. The planet they pretended to be on was known as Tiamat. We read from various sources that approximately 50, years ago a certain planetary body in our own solar system was mysteriously destroyed. This body has been called: Apparently, the Nephilim erected a makeshift radar-type station beacon or homing device on Tiamat so their pursuers would think they were hiding out there. The beings that were chasing them destroyed Tiamat believing their prey was hiding out on it when in fact they were hiding out underground on Earth. They also descended into other caverns that they themselves cut out of the living rock. Tiamat was a complete water planet and some believe that dolphins and whales originally come from this planet. Tiamat or what is left of it is now known as the asteroid belt. Tiamat was destroyed around 50, years ago. It literally rained for 40 days and 40 nights completely covering whole continents with salt water. Does that story sound familiar? Tsarion claims that Earth was a heavily forested place when the perused beings came here. The future Atlantean beings became stuck here when their pursuers cast an Etheric net to act as a type of quarantine around the Earth, which is being controlled by the Moon. Since then, the Earth has become a prison planet for them because they are unable to get past it and leave. The pursuers of the Nephilim erected around the Earth a sheath, an etheric membrane and this energy field placed the earth in quarantine. Beings can get in, but anyone with Alien DNA cannot get out even with the proper technology. The Earth is considered nothing more than a prison to them, a place of internment which is almost unendurable. The pursuers of the Nephilim did this to prevent the Nephilim from ever escaping this planet. The Nephilim can only goes as far as the Moon. Have you noticed that they can only send probes to places like Mars and many people still question if man has actually ever landed on the Moon. The Nephilim want to leave Earth and have been trying to create technology which would allow them to penetrate the global quarantine that has kept them stuck on Earth for at least 50, years. According to Tsarion, these beings are not benevolent; their only goal is to keep control on this planet, while at the same time, desperately trying to escape it. In the beginning, these Nephilim created several hybrid races to do work for them. Have you ever seen the symbol for medicine known as the Caduceus? It represents the double helix of DNA and shows two snakes serpents wrapped around a winged staff. This is an old ancient symbol going back to antiquity. So the Nephilim were known as the Serpent Race, not because they were reptilian, they were a Nordic looking race much like their first hybrid creation. The Nephilim eventually created several more slave races to work for them, but each one eventually rebelled and left them on their own or were taken back to Lemuria by the Sons of the Serpent. The Nephilim decided again to create a race of workers. According to Tsarion, the Reptilian Race or Reptilian Beings that we read so much about were created on Earth and they are not a space faring race as we were taught to believe by other alternative researchers. The Sons of the Serpent had found out about what their fathers were up to and they tried everything they could to free the latest slave race this was before the creation of the reptilians , even bringing many of them back to their continent of Lemuria which was located in what we know as the Pacific Ocean. The first being the original Serpent Race and the second being their first hybridized creation.

I will create a primitive: Man shall be his name. I shall create a primitive worker, He will be charged with service to the gods, That they might have their ease Sumerian Creation Epic. SUMMARY It took man over a million years to progress from using stones as he found them to the realization that they could be chipped and flaked to better purpose. It then took another , years before Neanderthal man mastered the concept of stone tools, and a further 50, years before crops were cultivated and metallurgy was discovered. Hence, by all scales of evolutionary reckoning, we should still be as far removed from any basic understanding of mathematics, engineering or science - But here we are, only 7, years later, landing probes on Mars! So, how did we inherit this wisdom, and from whom? Who or what were the "Fallen Angels? Was the science of genetics known in ancient times? Are you "Homo Sapiens" or "Homo Atlantis? ## Chapter 3 : Atlantis Alien Visitation - Unslaved out of 5 stars Atlantis, Alien Visitation, and Genetic Manipulation March 23, A good, unpedantic overview of the grand deception that passes for ancient history today.

When she gave me this book, initially, I thought she fell off the deep end. She said, "Just try it and be open-minded about it. So I took forever to read it. What made me read it now? Another lofty tool to get you to do dumb shit! But reading this was not dumb! I was given this book almost a year ago by my mom, whom I adore and trust and also think is incredibly smart. But reading this was not dumb! It was far from it. It was fascinating and blew my mind! I thought the author made a compelling argument and made one hell of a readable book! Just like the book, that series is also compelling and very mind boggling. And downright fun to ponder too! Aside from just the theories in the book, the author does a wonderful job making you want change. To want harmony with nature and to realize the madness we live in now that is so very artificial. Our ways of doing things are so ass-backwards, but on we go in the name of "progress" and civilization. This paragraph only touches the tip of the depth this author touches. Some of his depth grabs you by the collar and slaps you across the face very hard. I have no idea how to review this book or how to truly close this review up. All I know is if someone put a million books in front of me and had me arrange them in order from books I really want to read the most to books I want to read the least, looking at the premise of this book, I would have prematurely judged it and put it towards the bottom. Thanks to my mom for sliding it under my nose and recommending that I read it. Now, back down the rabbit hole I go!
