

Chapter 1 : Wisdom for Mothers â€” Kardo Ministries

Mom's Bible: God's Wisdom for Mothers gives women an awareness of just how precious and vital they are in God's plan for the family.. Available in the New Century Version and drawing on solid Bible teaching, it encourages women at every stage of life to strengthen their relationship with God.

Do not forsake wisdom, and she will protect you; love her, and she will watch over you. The beginning of wisdom is this: That reminds me of the way most parenting is done. My mother, Dolores Hayford, instilled lasting wisdom in my life. No less than all she imparted to me in early years, an incident happened near the end of her life represents a deeply significant moment in my 63 years of walking beside her as a son. It was the spring of My mother was 81 years of age and dying of a very painful cancer. I had returned home from visiting her in the hospital and bowed to pray. Her heart is humble and righteous before You, and she loves Your Son Jesus. Lord, release her from this pain and take her home. I labored over that, not trying to dictate to God but imploring Him with the passion I felt as a son watching my mother suffer so much. But mid-prayer, the Lord interrupted me. It will be up to Me how that healing comesâ€”whether she moves into the realm of eternal health, or to temporal health and a later time of coming into My presence. I will take care of her; I yet have matters to deal with My daughter about. We love verse It means having in ourselves the warmth, genuineness and beauty of Jesus that was so attractive about Him. That value was compulsive to my mother. She stopped what she was doing, wiped her hands on a dishtowel and asked me again what I thought about what I believed. I gave her an explanation that included the Word of God and the principles of our Foursquare Church. The gospel is the gospel. But remember this, no group of believers has a corner on the truth. She had agreed that the gospel was the gospel, and that the Bible was the authority. It creates lovelessness in an atmosphere where love is supposed to dominate. I am not called to be arrogant, divisive or unforgiving toward those who are different. I am called to keep my eyes on Jesus and to love the people around me. My identity is in Him. Not to outright lie, but to withhold just enough to keep yourself safe. We lived in a believing home, and we really believed that Jesus lived there with us. I knew a profound issue was about to be inquired into, and was reminded that Jesus really was right there. In my mind, it would be as if we were standing before His throne. The wisdom of knowing my life is lived in front of Jesus has been central to my character and behavior all these years. I know that I am always accountable for my heart before God. The sky was black and void. The hillside was black with soot, as if everything on it had been burnt by fire. She had no idea where she was, and she felt afraid. Then a voice sounded: Mamma said that when she woke up, she realized the Lord was correcting her with regard to an issue in her soul. Not a commitment to sin but to things that were wasteful and unproductive. It was a call to overcome that preoccupying selfishness that will dominate every one of us unto an absence of the fulfillment God has for us at every point and in every season of our life. Even on a death bed, when you wish you could be released from pain. Even then, there could still come fruitfulness. The beauty of that word to my mother was not just its summons to the hour, but also to the expectation of fruitfulness by the investment God has made in us. Even if you did not have the benefit of a mother like mine, dear one, the Holy Spirit will do the same thing for you. Live your life in front of Jesus. Let your heart be embracing, correctable, and forgiving.

Wisdom for Mothers An eight-week study that will help you find Biblical answers to your important questions about marriage, parenting, and priorities. In addition to the Bible study, you will learn to improve your mothering skills and will find helpful mothering tips designed for moms of all ages at the end of each lesson.

Then Jonathan made a covenant with David, because he loved him as his own soul. And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was on him and gave it to David, and his armor, and even his sword and his bow and his belt. And let steadfastness have its full effect, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing. He is a beloved brother and faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord. I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are and that he may encourage your hearts, and with him Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will tell you of everything that has taken place here. Aristarchus my fellow prisoner greets you, and Mark the cousin of Barnabas concerning whom you have received instructionsâ€”if he comes to you, welcome him, and Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only men of the circumcision among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have been a comfort to me. I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. I can do all things through him who strengthens me. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? So I will send a fire upon the house of Hazeael, and it shall devour the strongholds of Ben-hadad. Song of Solomon 4: Your eyes are doves behind your veil. Your hair is like a flock of goats leaping down the slopes of Gilead. Your teeth are like a flock of shorn ewes that have come up from the washing, all of which bear twins, and not one among them has lost its young. Your lips are like a scarlet thread, and your mouth is lovely. Your cheeks are like halves of a pomegranate behind your veil. Your neck is like the tower of David, built in rows of stone; on it hang a thousand shields, all of them shields of warriors. Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, that graze among the lilies.

I will say it again: Let your gentleness be evident to all. The Lord is near. Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable—if anything is excellent or praiseworthy—think about such things. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. From now on all generations will call me blessed. So now I give him to the Lord. For his whole life he will be given over to the Lord. Then they can urge the younger women to love their husbands and children, to be self-controlled and pure, to be busy at home, to be kind, and to be subject to their husbands, so that no one will malign the word of God. Buy the truth and do not sell it—wisdom, instruction and insight as well. The father of a righteous child has great joy; a man who fathers a wise son rejoices in him. May your father and mother rejoice; may she who gave you birth be joyful! I am the Lord your God. Bind them always on your heart; fasten them around your neck. When you walk, they will guide you; when you sleep, they will watch over you; when you awake, they will speak to you. Treat younger men as brothers, older women as mothers, and younger women as sisters, with absolute purity. Your beauty should not come from outward adornment, such as elaborate hairstyles and the wearing of gold jewelry or fine clothes. Her husband trusts her without reserve, and never has reason to regret it. Never spiteful, she treats him generously all her life long. She shops around for the best yarns and cottons, and enjoys knitting and sewing. First thing in the morning, she dresses for work, rolls up her sleeves, eager to get started. She senses the worth of her work, is in no hurry to call it quits for the day. She makes her own clothing, and dresses in colorful linens and silks. Her husband is greatly respected when he deliberates with the city fathers. She designs gowns and sells them, brings the sweaters she knits to the dress shops. Her clothes are well-made and elegant, and she always faces tomorrow with a smile. When she speaks she has something worthwhile to say, and she always says it kindly. She keeps an eye on everyone in her household, and keeps them all busy and productive. Her children respect and bless her; her husband joins in with words of praise: The woman to be admired and praised is the woman who lives in the Fear-of-God. Give her everything she deserves! ### Chapter 4 : Developing Wisdom as Christian Mothers - Mother's Day

"Mom's Bible: God's Wisdom for Mothers" (NCV version) by Thomas Nelson Publishers is a wonderfully enhanced Bible written to help mothers glean special thoughts and strength from God's Word. This version of the Bible is filled with Scripture that is understandable and easy to read.

Behind every great man is his mother. Someone imagined the mothers of these well-known sons making the following comments: Mothers do influence their sons and daughters! And, thus, one of the greatest gifts you can give your children is to be a godly mother. But, sadly, the influence of the feminist movement has caused the status of motherhood to decline. Women are encouraged to find fulfillment in a career, not in raising children. If kids come along, they are dropped off at the day care center, sometimes even as infants. In , only 12 percent of women with preschool children worked outside the home. By , over 50 percent of mothers with children five and under were working. Young mothers also return to work sooner after the birth of their babies than ever before. By , that figure had jumped to over 50 percent. Even many Christians have adopted the cultural trend. Most kids would vote for less junk and a mom at home. In 2 Timothy 1: In 2 Timothy 3: Through faith in God and by honoring His Word, godly mothers have great influence as they train their children. Godly mothers are women of sincere faith 1: Even though they had Greek names, at least Eunice was a Jewish believer Acts Perhaps Lois had been converted in Jerusalem on the Day of Pentecost and had come home to tell her daughter. But the implication is that their faith pre-dated that of Timothy. We have no clue as to why a godly woman of faith like Eunice would marry a pagan man. The Old Testament is very clear that Jews should not marry outside the faith. Perhaps Eunice, though raised by Lois in a faithful Jewish home, went through a time of rebellion, during which she got married, but later came to faith in Jesus as Savior and Messiah. We can only speculate. We do know that the Bible clearly forbids a believer from marrying an unbeliever. If her son, Timothy, could grow up to follow the Lord as he did, then God can do the same for your children, even if your husband is not a believer. While God intends for the father to take the lead in the spiritual training of the children, the mother can have a great influence even in situations where the father is passive or hostile to God. One prime quality which such a woman needs is sincere faith. The parents may be fighting as they drive to church, but when they drive in the parking lot, they act as if everything is just great. Kids smell that kind of phoniness a mile away. One pastor had been preaching on the importance of daily Bible reading. But it does imply reality with God. Such faith dwelt in these women; it was at home in them, a comfortable, everyday sort of thing. Sincere faith means that you have sincerely believed in Jesus Christ as your Savior and Lord. It means that you walk in reality with Christ each day, spending time in His Word and in prayer. It means that you confront yourself with Scripture and judge your sin on the thought level. It means that when you do sin against a family member, you ask their forgiveness and seek to work on your weak areas. It means that you develop godly character qualities and attitudes of submission, thankfulness, and joy in the Lord. Not only are godly mothers women of sincere faith, but also they seek to hand off that faith to their children. But genuine faith is contagious. He could see the Lord in them, and it attracted him to the Lord. How do you hand off your faith to your kids? He could look at their lives and see that the Bible is a reliable Book. Pray for godly Sunday School teachers, youth workers, elders, pastors, or other men and women of God to influence your children for righteousness. The main way your children will grow up to love and serve God is through His Word. How do you do it? You cannot impart what you do not possess. If the TV is on every night, but the Bible is seldom read as a family, guess what the kids will assume is the most important? You can buy Bible story books that have simple text and a lot of pictures. Once when Joy was just a young toddler, we were driving down the mountain where we lived in California on a day with beautiful clouds. You never know how God is using the seed of His Word. Salvation is built on the knowledge of the truth revealed in Scripture. They need to know not only that God is loving, but also that He is holy and just, and that He will bring terrible, everlasting punishment on those who do not turn from their sins and trust in Christ. They need to know what Christ did on the cross, dying as our substitute. They need to understand that God forgives our sin because of His kindness, apart from our good works. They need to know what saving faith is, as opposed to empty profession that does not result in salvation. As you read the Bible to your kids, they will learn about people who turned from their sin to God and were saved. They will hear of others who made wrong choices, who loved their sin more than God, whose lives were ruined. They will hear stories of children whose parents were godly, but the children did not follow God, and of others whose parents were ungodly, but the children chose to follow the Lord. They will learn that each person is accountable before God. As you read the Bible to them, pray that God will use it to convict them of their sin, to show them their desperate need for salvation, and cause them to trust in Christ as Savior and Lord. If you use simple illustrations, even young children can understand the basics and genuinely be converted to Christ. He may be, but he may not be. Look for evidence of genuine conversion: Is he sorry about his sin and sensitive to it? Does he show a growing love for God and His Word? Does he want to talk about the things of God? Does he want to please God with his life? For over 20 pages, he goes on and on, describing the mountain of guilt he was under from age ten until he was converted at In an earlier chapter, Spurgeon tells how every Sunday evening, his mother would stay home with the children, read and explain the Scriptures to them, and plead with them to think about the state of their souls and to seek the Lord. Once, as he was on his way to a service, he feared that he was neglecting his own family while caring for the souls of others. So he turned back and went home. When he came in the house, everything was quiet, except for the voice of his wife behind the bedroom door. He listened and heard her pleading earnestly in prayer for the salvation of all her children, and especially for her strong-willed first-born, Charles. So a crucial task for godly mothers is to pray for and use the Scriptures to lead each of her children to faith in Christ. It is profitable for teaching us the ways of God, how God wants us to live 2 Tim. It reveals the very thoughts and intentions of our hearts Heb. It reproves us, which means, it convinces us of our wrongs. It corrects us by showing us how to get right with God and others. It trains us in righteousness, showing us how to keep on the path of obedience and blessing. Scripture is not given to satisfy our curiosity or to give us interesting stories. Your kids should see you applying Scripture and you should teach them how to apply it to the things they face as they grow to maturity. Godly mothers have great influence on their children. Who knows what lifelong influence Lois and Eunice had on young Timothy? Sure, he was strengthened greatly through his relationship with Paul. But the foundation was laid by his godly mother and grandmother. It is not too much to argue that world history is shaped in the home through godly mothers. Certainly I have not the powers of speech with which to set forth my valuation of the choice blessing which the Lord bestowed on me in making me the son of one who prayed for me, and prayed with me. How can I ever forget her tearful eye when she warned me to escape from the wrath to come? The successful mother, the mother who does her part in rearing and training aright the boys and girls who are to be the men and women of the next generation, is of greater use to the community, and occupies, if she only would realize it, a more honorable as well as more important position than any man in it. The mother is the one supreme asset of the national life. That is not to disparage the crucial role godly fathers must play. But it is to encourage you in the crucial role godly mothers play. Conclusion Maybe you feel like a failure as a mother. Where do you start? God always honors repentance. Turn back to Him. As a Christian couple, you may have to consider having the wife quit work to be home with the children. Even if your children are grown, God will honor your repentance.

Chapter 5 : What Does the Bible Say About Mothers?

Patience: God's Wisdom for Moms. 8 Days. The greatest call for Christian moms is to know God and help others know Him, too. The readings in this 8-day plan are selected from the Mom's Bible: God's Wisdom for Mothers offering encouragement and a wise perspective as you seek to grow in the area of patience and godly character.

How much do you pray to God about your mother? We can be so selfish at times. We pray for all these different things, but we forget the people who brought us into this world. We are to honor and praise the Lord for the women who have been such a blessing to us. Praise the Lord for their sacrifices that they made for us. Sometimes we have to even go to the Lord and confess of the way we neglected these women in our lives. There is nothing like a mama. Show your mother or the mother figure in your life how you much you care. They are the ones who never give up, despite the struggles. Use this verse to reflect how you treat your mom. Are you loving her? Are you cherishing every moment with her? One day our moms are not going to be here. How are you honoring her? Are you listening to her? Are you talking back to her? Do you call her? Do you still rub her feet out of love for her? We live like our parents are going to be here forever. Be thankful for every moment. Make it your goal to spend more time with your mom, dad, grandmother, and grandfather. So she went down to the threshing floor and did everything her mother-in-law told her to do. That is your mom! This is the society that we live in today. No respect for their mother. I read so many selfish reasons and people holding on to anger. Click here and check the debate out yourself. As Jesus was suffering on the cross He was worried about His mom and who was going to take care of her after He was gone. He made plans for her provision. He put one of His disciples in charge of taking care of her. Our Savior taught us to provide and take care of our parents as much as we can. When you serve others you are serving Christ and showing your love for the Father. Moms love taking pictures and they cry at little moments. Your mom is the one that cherishes those cute photos of you in those outfits that she picked out for you when you were younger. She cherishes those embarrassing moments and those embarrassing photos that you hate people seeing. Thank the Lord for moms! But his mother treasured all these things in her heart. Kids are going to learn a lot from their moms more than their fathers. We go with our moms everywhere. Whether it be to the grocery store, the doctor, etc. Moms are very protective. Mothers go through a lot. Children imitate the strength and the example of a godly mother. Song of Solomon 8: I would give you spiced wine to drink, the nectar of my pomegranates. So Sarah conceived and bore a son to Abraham in his old age, at the appointed time of which God had spoken to him. Abraham called the name of his son who was born to him, whom Sarah bore to him, Isaac. I prayed for this boy, and since the Lord gave me what I asked Him for, I now give the boy to the Lord. For as long as he lives, he is given to the Lord. Women will find true fulfillment through childbearing. Mothers are given a great responsibility of raising up godly offspring. The godliness of a mother has the greatest impact on a child. This is why we need more godly mothers to change a generation of rebellious kids. Satan is trying to fight against the ways of the Lord. There is a relationship between a mother and a child that is unlike any other that no man will ever know. Even these may forget, but I will not forget you. Just like you have made your mom mad before she has probably made you mad before. We all have fallen short. Thanks be to our Savior Jesus Christ. Just like He has forgiven our sins we are to forgive the sins of others. We are to let go of the past and hold on to love. Love your mom and be thankful for her. As children we notice these things. We see our parents in the Word. We see their prayer life in adversity and we notice these things. A godly household will result in godly kids. And I know that same faith continues strong in you.
