The activities not only decorate the tree, but also say something memorable about the Christmas message. The full text of Bob Hartman's story of the shepherds and the angels is included, for reading alone or at the deck-the-tree party.

In this context, you should give special attention to choosing your Christmas tree because this tree is perhaps one of the most quintessential symbols of the holiday season. Frosted Christmas tree is a particularly good option here because they look natural, elegant and truly unconventional. But even if you get a white flocked Christmas Tree, how do you decorate it perfectly? Read on to brush up on some incredibly unique ideas for decorating your snowy Christmas tree this holiday season. You can either leave the tree without any decorations or use some small fairy lights to keep things natural, elegant and chic. You can also put your tree in a basket to exude a perfect holiday vibe. In addition to this, you can also add white fabric for imitating or representing the snow. This decoration is incredibly popular among frosted Christmas trees because it beautifully accentuates the look of the tree. When it comes to choosing the material for the decorations, you can always make your pick from gold, silver, bronze or even copper. For the finish, choose from matte, glittery or glossy finishes according to your individual preferences. Here, you can either use one particular shade or a combination of them for a more pepped up look. If your tree is slightly bigger, try the big and oversized metallic ornaments. For a basic yet chic decoration, you can try decorating your tree in white and gold. Complete the look by adding some big snowflakes and pine cones to your tree. This will definitely make it stand out. Finally, if elegance is your primary concern, deck up your tree in silver and pearls. This idea works best with Alaskan Ferns. Well, in that case, you can always try experimenting with colors. You can also use plaid ribbons and the burlap mesh to make your tree pop out. You can add silver and pearl ornaments to add to the elegance. Start by making an elegant rattan garland. Using balls instead of ornaments is a particularly great idea for people who want their decorations to be beautiful but under budget. The balls work excellently well as they fill every kind of gap inside your tree. Finally, hang your smaller ornaments and the white owls outside the tree. Your faux flocked tree will look absolutely spectacular with its unique rustic charm. The best part, however, is the fact that it is truly out of the box. So now that you have some of the best ideas for decking up your white Christmas trees, get started with your decorations to make your tree look elegant, classy and truly beautiful or you can even buy one already made from here or here.

Thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name. The author realizes that many sincere Bible-believing Christians due to family pressures, or due to being unaware of the truth behind Christmas, observe at least some of the customs of the holiday, such as gift giving, and do so with the intent of keeping Jesus in mind. This is not intended as a critique against Christians who have not abandoned every aspect of Christmas. This is a critique of those who mistranslate the Bible, or use mistranslated Bibles, for the purpose of promoting paganism as expressed in the rituals of Christmas. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good. There was a time when the pagan holiday known as Christmas had actual Christian overtones. This is no longer the case. The modern holiday no longer had anything at all to do with Jesus. One can go through a drug store card rack and not find a single Christmas card that even mentions our Lord, and manger scenes are being outlawed. Christmas originated as a way to celebrate a pagan holiday by disguising it as a Christian one. Now Satan Clause, flying reindeer, mistletoe, and Christmas trees are all methods to remove Christ entirely from the holiday and return it to its pure pagan roots. This verse from Jeremiah is one of the most prophetic verses in the Bible in regard to modern times. It is a clear and glaring warning against this pagan holiday and the wicked time of commercialism and materialism that it has become. The Christmas tree is a blatant affront to God, but many, if not most, professed Christians put one up. Most that do not, do not because it is inconvenient, not because they are convicted by the Bible. The modern perversions hide this warning by perverting this passage by disguising the adorned tree as an ordinary idol. I have seen many Christmas trees through the windows of churches all across America, even Baptist churches. This is as strong a statement that they could make about what kind of church they are, and should be a warning to all with any spiritual discernment at all. Their idols are nothing but wood from the forest. They are made by a worker with his chisel. A wooden idol may be chiseled, but not cut down with an axe as a tree is. This pornographers who own the NIV obscure the verse even worse. Here the tree is cut down and then it is carved as an idol. This requires an axe and a chisel both when there is only one tool in the verse. It is bad enough to lie about the chisel, but to interject both adds a level of incompetence that is mind boggling. The ever silly Living Bible perverts the verse even more. Where is any of that in the Hebrew? The NLT has the following display of foolishness: They cut down a tree and carved an idol. The decision to translate it as wood, while inserting references to idols, was made, undoubtedly, by the apostate translators of the new versions in order to disguise and justify this pagan practice that has become so popular. It should be noted that Christmas trees were not sold commercially in the U. Before that its history in Europe began with the Druids and Vikings and eventually spread to Germany. It is the Germans that brought it to America, not the British. Christmas trees eventually did become popular in England, but not during the Era of the King James Bible. My point is that the KJV translators did not translate ets as tree that was adorned in this passage in order to make a statement against the practice of erecting Christmas trees, because they had no reason to at that time. They translated it that way because they were divinely guided and God ensured that future generations be warned about Christmas. Of course, they also translated it that way because they were competent translators who knew what the Hebrew says. It should be added that legend attributes the German practice of erecting Christmas trees to Martin Luther. Luther would have not missed the significance of the Jeremiah verse. I will never forget listening to a preacher on the radio defend both Christmas trees and Santa Clause fables. This same preacher, Pete Peters, a member of the New Age cult called "Christian" Identity, had just a few weeks later preached against the KJV while promoting the NIV, NASV, and others unfortunately, I never recognize his voice and sometimes listen to him for several minutes until he says something really blasphemous. The connection is a common one. The perverted modern churches will still use these counterfeit verses to excuse their anti-Christian paganism, but the use of these Bibles still make for a poor excuse. Even if Jeremiah 10 were completely missing from our Bible it would still be very obvious that these trees are a way to distract people from the Christian elements that have formed around Christmas, in spite of it being a pagan-originated holiday. In other words, such church-goers are without excuse. They will have to hop on over to the NIV or another perversion in order to disregard the warning. If you see a Christmas tree displayed in a church, chances are that that church also promotes false Bibles, immodest dress, rock and roll, entertaining over preaching, and other sins of the modern church. Bible believing Christians who stray into such places should be grateful to be given the warning. The preceding is part of a series of examples of KJV verses that arrogant would-be scholars have tried to correct and showed themselves to be fools. I hope that some of you find them useful. Your servant in Christ, John Hinton, Ph. Bible Restoration Ministry A ministry seeking the translating and reprinting of KJV equivalent Bibles in all the languages of the world.
