

Chapter 1 : Come Worship With Us |

We hope not. Many of our members come to Church by themselves each week. However, if you'd like someone to attend with you for the first time, feel free to contact the missionaries or the bishop of the ward when you arrive and they'll find you a friend to sit with. It's always hard to be new.

Come Worship With Us Our method of worship is very simple and unadorned. It is not fancy or decorated with the frills of this world. Our desire is to center our attention on God and His Bible taught ways and not on man and his ideas. We strive to glorify our Lord Jesus Christ and Him alone. Thus, you will not find many accessories to our worship. Families worship together as described in scripture. Our goal is to have a church based only on the Bible and to worship God in the same uncomplicated fashion as is described in scripture. If you are searching for the Bible paths, the old ways, we invite you to come worship with us. Our worship services are unadorned and simple. Families worship together with no segregation into groups or classes. Singing is a capella and congregational. We consider Christ Jesus to be the head of our church. We attempt to humbly worship Him and give Him all the praise. None of us are above another. We freely admit we are not perfect, but we worship one who is. Perhaps a church was meant to be about Him and not about people and their egos. We honestly try to magnify and praise Him and Him alone. March 22, at 8: I since moved too far and was out of church for a while. I have remarried and live in Central City, KY and have found several Primitive Baptist Churches and very happy to see because you do not find this type of church just anywhere. I am very interested in attending. Could you give me a call at ? I think you called me before but I am sorry to say, I seemed to lost the message and your number. I will look forward to hearing from you.

Directions History Saint Alphonsus Parish was founded in Its life and history are wound up in the great movements which affected the Universal Catholic Church, the history of our own nation, and the particular circumstances which affected the development of the Church in the Pittsburgh Diocese and region in the nineteen hundreds. Boyle dedicated the present Church building. This present Church building is the third building to serve as a Church for the people of Saint Alphonsus. There were two great pastorates which dominated Saint Alphonsus Parish in its first century: Between them they governed the parish for 51 of its years. Less is known of Father Hamilton simply due to the time difference, but as founder of the parish and builder of the present Church, together with his wisdom in providing for a parish school almost as soon as the parish was started, he demonstrated his pastoral wisdom. Pastorius, who died in after serving for 21 years, is still fondly remembered by many of our parishioners. He was renowned for his simplicity, kindness and holiness of life. He also presided over the expansion of the school at a time in the fifties when student enrollment was at an all-time high. Together with these two priests, the Sisters of the Divine Providence stand out in the history of our parish, for they served the school for over 90 years, with a dedication and trust that reflected the name of their community. But time flies, things change. The Church is no exception. The enrollment was 42 when it closed in June of Saint Alphonsus is still a vibrant parish, but it has had to adapt to changing times. This is true of the entire Diocese, which has , people less than it had 20 years ago, down from to parishes. May the name of Jesus Christ, Lord and Savior, be praised forever and ever. Alphonsus Liguori The life of Alphonsus Liguori virtually spanned the 18th century. Born in Naples of distinguished parents, he demonstrated intellectual ability at an early age and became a doctor of civil law at Ordained in , he soon won a reputation in Naples as a preacher and became widely sought as a confessor.
