Unlock the rear latch by pushing lever down. Lift rear of cowl and disengage front hook. An anode helps protect the outboard against galvanic corrosion by sacrificing its metal to be slowly corroded instead of the outboard metals. The anode requires periodic inspection especially in salt water which will accelerate the erosion. If the filter appears to be contaminated, remove and replace. Visually inspect for fuel leakage from the filter connections by squeezing the primer bulb until firm, forcing fuel into the filter. Page 7 especially in salt water , always apply a coat of the recommended lubricant to the entire propeller shaft at the recommended maintenance intervals and also each time the propeller is removed. Place a block of wood between gearcase and propeller to prevent rotation and tighten propeller nut. Secure propeller nut to the shaft with cotter pin. Spark plug Lubrication Points 1. Description Where Used Part No. Lubricating the tiller handle bushing and shift handle detent requires disassembly of the product. These points should be lubricated at least once a year by an authorized dealer. Inspect oil for signs of contamination. Oil contaminated with water will have a milky color to it; oil contaminated with fuel will have a stong fuel smell. If contaminated oil is noticed, have the engine checked by your dealer. Place outboard in a vertical operating position. Remove vent plug from vent hole. Place lubricant tube into the fill hole and add lubricant until it appears at the vent hole. Replace sealing washers if damaged. Install the vent plug and sealing washer before removing the lubricant tube.
