

Chapter 1 : Editions of Head Over Heels by Gail Sattler

Carla Wainwright was building a house - and a future - with the man she loved. But when he walked out of her life, she held on to her dream of the blog.quintoapp.com, with the help of a reluctant contractor, Jack Dugan, she sees her project - and her hopes - rise to new heights.

I have just finished reading the first book in the series of Heats in Harmony. I really enjoyed it. Keep up the Great Work. I just recently finished reading the Vancouver novella, and I have to say how much I loved it! It was so good. I could hardly put it down. The third book, On the Road Again, was my favorite! I love your books. I am always looking for the ones I have not read. A little mystery was great. I would enter this one in a contest as well. I think its a winner. If you still remember me, that is. I read the final novellete in a day! Oregon City OR Country: I really enjoyed the first Men of Praise book. I have 2 and 3, waiting to be read, as I usually wait for a series to be complete before reading them. I saw in your books list that 4 is about a man named Russ. He is not one of the four in Hearts in Harmony. Is Paul going to have a story too? Thank you for sharing your faith and talent. Fort Wayne IN Country: Is this a misprint or is there a new member to the praise team? And will there be a book about Paul? Enjoying the Kentucky Keepers book very much. All of the stories were intersting in their own way. We just moved my a small lake so the fishing theme is great. I am so glad to see your site updated!!! I have now collected 13 of your books, plus 3 anthologies. Another book and two more anthologies are on their way to me through paperbackswap. Wow, great story line! Would you believe that I read it late one night and then read it again the next morning?! I read Puppy Love yesterday and am reading Angels for Christmas today. Bought these two in Branson, MO. My daughter is also enjoying your books. They kept my interest from the moment I started them. I have truely enjoyed these and other books of yours. Keep up the good work. I know the Lord has blessed you. I am a member of Heartstong Presents. Love your stuff " thanks. Working on my fist submission and plan to have enough done to review with someone, God willing. Still trying to figure out the process. Hope to see you there. Blessings on you and yours! East Berkshire Vermont Country: I can not get enough of them. I can not put it down once I start reading it! Laughing hi,i really enjoy reading your books you are a great writer and i look foward to reading more. Congratulations on winning the contest. Write Canada sets a high standard. I visualize your snoopy dance. I really like it, too!! Checked out the conference pics. Changing Her Heart was hard for me to read. I have a brother who is an alcoholic. He was sober for a short time when his job was threatened but since is back to drinking daily. He is still able to function and no one would know he drinks nightly. The first time I read your book was right after it came out. I just reread it today from a different prospective. Ever hear of FAA? Its Food Addicts Anonymous. Their web site is http: In Christian love, Olive. PS its okay to print this if you choose as I only signed my first name.

Chapter 2 : The House Love Built: Four Romances Are Built on the Foundation of Faith by Tracey Victoria

Foundation of love / by Gail Sattler -- Love's open door / by Susan May Warren -- Once upon an attic / by Tracey Victoria Bateman -- Mending fences / by Susan Downs.

Gail Sattler When we think of love and what God has to say about it, the first verse most of us think about is 1COR But I would like to spend a little time with a verse that has a lot to do with love but also something else. Love must be sincere. Hate what is evil; cling to what is good. That love is not sincere. God wants us to be honest about love. Hate what is evil. If you say you hate something, do you really hate it, or are you only annoyed? If it truly is evil, and you truly hate it, God is giving us instructions to do something about it, because it is evil, and you hate it. If something is evil, and you are moved by it, then do something about it. Likewise, cling to what is good in the same way. Cherish what is good. And, do something about it to show how much you value it. Remember, love and hate are verbs. Gail, thank you so much for sharing this devotional with us today. Be careful when you use it. Gail is the author of over 40 novels and novellas, and is always working on something new. Michael and Charlotte meet when Michael is trying to find Ashley, his missing daughter who has fallen into drug abuse, and Charlotte is searching for her son Jon, a brilliant and aspiring young scientist who has also gone missing. When Michael and Charlotte join together to figure what their children have become involved with, they, too, are sucked into a sinkhole for which there are no answers, only more questions. When all seems lost, will they all recognize the source of strength offered to them, and will they take it? I hope you will be blessed by what these fellow authors have to say. Next week I will be hosting J. Morrrows and with a giveaway!
