In fact, there are some who would even go as far as to say that it is a sin itself to even make a vow. Jesus said in Mt 5: On the other hand though, many important people in the Bible did make a vow to God, and He responded positively to some: Hannah 1 Sam 1: God gave her a son , Jacob 2 vows Gen God also initiated some vows i. But we know God cannot lie Heb 6: And, being the fallible, imperfect humans we are, the majority of us will probably fail to keep our vow at some point unlike our infallible God , and therefore break a promise to God. The Bible warns us of the danger of this: Pay what you vow! Why should God be angry on account of your voice and destroy the work of your hands? Notice that both of these say that it is better not to vow at all, than to vow and not carry out your vow. Think about it, how many Christian brothers and sisters and even non-Christians have made a vow to God and not kept it? Do you know that half of all marriages including Christian ones end in divorce? How many who divorce think about the fact that they made a vow to God that their marriage would be a lifelong commitment? Maybe if they did their would be less divorces. Right there, half of all previously married Christians have sinned in breaking a vow. Following along that same line, did you know that if you divorce and remarry while your spouse is still alive, you commit adultery Rom 7: How many Christians have made vows at conversion, baptism, confirmation, ordination, i. How many of us have made a vow to God in a time of trouble and then failed to follow through on it? Do these cover a majority of Christians? This even happened to people in the Bible. Saul found out and said he would have to die for breaking the vow v: Judg Samson was a Nazarite from birth, and had vows to God he was to keep as a Nazarite, but he broke many of them. He came in contact with dead bodies Judg When he returned home victorious, his only daughter was the first to run out and greet him. There is some debate from the text as to whether or not Jephthah fulfilled his vow or not, but whether or not he did, it was still a foolish vow. The story of Jephthah leads us to another problem with making vows, they sometimes are made on something that God has already declared sinful. Joshua made a similar mistake in Josh 9 when he was tricked into making a promise to spare the lives of the Gibeonites when God had already said before to wipe them out Deut 7: Foolish vows, based on sin, that should never be made are occurring more and more frequently today. God has declared homosexuality a sin Lev Homosexuals are being ordained in some churches, and making vows to God while living in unrepentant sin. I just use the homosexual issue as one example, but there are many other areas of life in which foolish vows are being made too. We must come before Him with true repentance, confessing our sin and God will be "faithful and just to forgive our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" 1 Jn 1: For example, in the Bible, David committed adultery with Bathsheba and she became pregnant as a result. He then added to his sin by having her husband killed to cover up what he had done. When confronted with his sin, he was truly repentant and sorry and asked for forgiveness. God forgave David 2 Sam Today, we could break our vow to God that we would make a lifelong commitment to our spouse, and God can forgive, but consequences could follow. For example, our kids could and often do rebel in anger, we could face a loss of some friendships, we might not be able to serve in church the way we might like, our finances might be affected, etc This penalty could apply to many other broken vows as well. This penalty for sin generally accompanies ANY sin we commit i. This is not to say that there are going to be dire consequences to every sin we commit, but usually we pay some kind of price for sinning. However, it is interesting to note in the Bible that God, in His infinite wisdom, foresaw that some would break vows to Him and even made some provision for it. God does allow for the breaking of the marriage vow if a spouse has committed adultery Mt 5: Verse 10 then says, "So the priest shall make atonement on his behalf for his sin which he has committed, and it will be forgiven him. Num 30 also addresses vows. I read an intriguing thought which stated that since we are the bride of Jesus Rev So, in summary, we have many examples that show us that God knows we are fallible humans who are likely going to fail if we make a vow to Him. The Bible also says that there is nothing at all wrong with never making a vow to Him. Therefore, it is wise to never make a vow. However, if you have prayed and counted the cost of keeping that vow, and you still feel led to make that vow, that is a matter between you and God.

I hope you gonna love it. No matter who enters to your life, I will love you more than any of them. We promise according to our hopes and perform according to our fears. I promise to be yours forever, if you promise to be mine forever. Promise is a big word. It either makes something or it breaks everything. Do what you love, love what you do, deliver more than you promise. There is promise in every new dawn. Promise of a new start, new chances, new opportunities, and new hope, always remember the promise. Promise yourself to be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own. Love is a promise that can last forever. Never promise more than you can perform. I want someone who promise to lay on the grass and watch them with me. Three things you should never break: Forgiveness is a promise. Not a feeling, when you forgive other people. You are making a promise never to use their past sins against them. Do what you love, love what you do, deliver more than you promise. Promise yourself to be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. The real promise is if the time you spent together will be worth the pain in the end. My love will always be with you till the day I die I promise to walk this life with you forever. Promise is a big word it either makes something or it breaks everything. A promise means everything but once it is broken sorry means nothing. I promise to love you forever, every single day of forever. I hate those people who break their promises, but I hate myself more for even though the promise was already broken, I still expect it to be done. Love is a promise, love is a souvenir, once given never forgotten, never let it disappear. I promise to walk miles with you! Just promise you will walk back with me. If you are the man of your word, and deliver whatever you promise, everyone gonna call you man of your word. You may also love:

His name is Tahir, and he is from Turkey. He was trying to get me to do stuff on cam that I did not want to do, and then I told him that sex is not the most important thing in a relationship So then, I typed something to him like: Tahir, I love you. Whatever you say goes, but I would like to teach you the way that I love. The bad hobbit Sign Up or Login to comment. You are not a bad girl, we are not bad nor good - like white or black. Obvisouly he was just looking to use a person for sexual gradification or he would not have cut you off. Now you are chasing him, why? You might want to read it. Lori Brokenhobbit Member 10 years on site 67 posts He came back a couple hours later, telling me that it was not he that blocked me, one of his idiot friends did just to be an ass, and Tahir said that he yelled at his friend, saying "she is important for me! You can not do this! Then we talked a bit about some stuff and things are ok now. Hopefully things will run smoothly from now on. It touched my heart how he defended me after his friend was an ass and blocked me like that. That made me smile and made me feel loved. Lilibit58 Senior Member 11 years on site posts Please take some serious thought on why this is important to you. Lostgurl is very right when it comes to us women being more suscetable to being used and abused when we were not taken care of properly as children. No one does and life is much better when you like yourself. You dont have to "be good" to get attention. Please be careful with this if you choose to continue. Lori nicolechittock Member 11 years on site posts The red flags are waving like mad here! First of all, you saying "no" should have been the end of it. Secondly, abusers will often make false grandiose gestures such as claiming to have defended your honor in order to make you feel "special and loved. My advice is to get out of this situation before it gets too out of control. This type of abuse is sneaky, and it can have you hooked before you know it. The red flags are waving like mad here! This is great advise! Sign Up or Login to comment.

I have to remember that true love is strong and enduring, But it is true, there are times when the strong need reassuring. I love you so, and I appreciate you taking that moment to tell me you love me too. Our life together will be your pleasure. I will give you all my love, devotion, and attention, that you will see. When we were young we took time for walks in the park. Hand in hand, so happy together just walking in the dark. We loved so pure, so honest and true. I thanked God then as today for giving me you. We loved life and each other, we promised our devotion forever. We were so happy, so loving and always together. We had not a lot of things or money back then, But I had the best of life; my wife was my best friend. Then as today to just lie on the couch as you fall asleep in my arms is my pleasure. It is the simple things that mean so much, As simple as just feeling your touch. Now all these years later I feel so in love with you. I am a very blessed man, and God has blessed me; I know that is true. Each day I awake and I realize what I want to do. I want to spend each day of my life devoted to and loving you. I want to have new adventures in life; you know that is true, But I want to do nothing that does not include you. We love today like never a day before, Because each day I love you so much more. You are so beautiful, more beautiful each day. Your beauty is more than it was yesterday. You have matured from a beautiful young bride To a beautiful mature woman with love and pride. We no longer have youth on our side. My love for you has grown stronger through the years. Your love gives me strength, so as we age I have no fears. I love you, and I hope you know that you are my blessing, my wife. I am devoted to loving you and caring for you for the rest of my life.
