Chapter 3 : Miracle on 34th Street | Music Theatre International

Miracle on 34th Street is an irresistible fable that has, for many, become synonymous with celebrating Christmas. The holiday season is in full swing when a cultured gentleman with twinkling eyes, an ample belly, and snowy beard (Edmund Gwenn) is hired as Macy's department store Santa.

My wife Janet and I both believe God is a God of miracles. Louis, Missouri to Greenback, Tennessee in May of 1985. The list of miracles God performed on our behalf during this period of transition is extensive. Where the Dream Began I guess I really need to start our story from the beginning. It all started in when Janet and I were celebrating our 10th wedding anniversary. We celebrated by taking a short vacation to Gatlinburg, Tennessee. We rented a cabin in the mountains for our short stay in Gatlinburg. The cabin was in a beautiful, serene, and scenic location. From the outdoor deck of the cabin, a stunning view of the mountains was ours to enjoy. During our visit to Gatlinburg, we surveyed the breathtaking beauty of the Smoky Mountains. The Smoky Mountain National Park offers scenic beauty that is too beautiful to describe. After one visit to Gatlinburg, we were hooked. Over the next several years, we took short getaways to the mountains at least once or twice a year. Janet Becomes an Entrepreneur In 1995, a few months after our first trip to Gatlinburg, Janet became an entrepreneur. We named the company Cornerstone Medical Recruiting. The company specializes in the recruitment of nurse practitioners and physician assistants nationwide. We would always try to add a day or two of leisure and visit the area while there on business. Our Journey Out Of Debt By 2005, we had spent several years making poor choices regarding the management of our money and finances. We knew we had to take control of our money. It was then we decided to enroll in a class offered by our church called Financial Peace University. It is a class featuring the teaching of Dave Ramsey that teaches money management from a biblical perspective. That class changed our lives. By early 2006, we were completely debt free with the exception of our mortgage. This new freedom from junk debt allowed us to pay extra amounts toward the principal on our mortgage and build up assets through investments. The Dream Continued With our love of East Tennessee still growing and our much improved financial situation, a dream of retirement in East Tennessee was born. We researched towns within a short distance of the Smoky Mountains and had decided Maryville, Tennessee was our target retirement destination. Maryville was actually then ranked as one of the top places to retire in the country. The area of the map centered on the vicinity of Maryville Tennessee and the surrounding communities. Because we were considering Maryville Tennessee as our retirement destination, we sought out a local church in the area. Our search for a church led us to Rio Revolution Church in Maryville. Anytime we would travel to the area on a weekend, we attended Sunday services at Rio Revolution. Pacer Hepperly, the Pastor of Rio Revolution Church is a fantastic person and minister of the gospel. He is one of those people you instantly like and appreciate. His demeanor, personality, and sincerity is superb. After several visits to Rio Revolution and face to face conversations with Pacer, along with social media interaction with Pacer, a friendship was born. We knew when we retired, Rio Revolution Church would become our home church. We shared with him our dream of retirement in Maryville Tennessee and the restlessness we felt from continuing to be in the neighborhood where we lived. Pacer listened to our concerns and offered us great words of encouragement. At the close of our conversation with Pacer that day, he prayed with us and told us to keep trusting God for our move to Tennessee. Little did we know our relocation was about to take place. Our Decision to Take a Leap of Faith In late 2006, we experienced something that jolted us to our core and made us decide to pursue our dream immediately. By then, we had lived in the same house in North St. Louis County for almost 18 years. Over the course of the time we lived there, the neighborhood had deteriorated immensely. The crime rate was awful, we had experienced two home break-ins, and hearing gunfire in the neighborhood was a frequent occurrence. Our home was situated in an unincorporated area sandwiched between Ferguson Missouri and Dellwood Missouri. The rioting in Ferguson Missouri that occurred in August of 2006 was in an area a mile from our house. With the tremendous decline in the quality of the neighborhood, we felt trapped. We felt like our neighborhood was our bondage in Egypt and East Tennessee was our promised land. An incident on November 30, 2006, was the final straw that made us choose to vacate the area. Fifteen minutes before the gunfire occurred, Janet was in the front yard by the street walking our dog. The realization that she could have been killed in our yard sealed our decision. It was time to move. The Planning For Our Relocation A month after the street gun battle incident, Janet spoke to a medical recruiting company in Knoxville about possible employment. She had called them in response to an advertised job opening. After taking a trip to Knoxville to interview at the company, Janet was excited about the possibility of her company being purchased by the company she was interviewing at. We initially thought this would be our ticket out of St. At our Christmas gathering with family in , we made the announcement that we were leaving St. We told them our house would soon be put up for sale and we would be moving to Tennessee in Preparation for the Move When we started serious discussion about the sale of our house, we knew a new roof was needed. The existing roof was the original roof and was almost 30 years old. We anticipated a tremendous challenge in selling a house in a neighborhood that was as deteriorated as our neighborhood was. Through something of a miracle in itself, we had an unusually warm week of weather in St. Louis in mid December. After contacting a roofing company, we were able to have our roof replaced in the middle of December. Anyone who knows much about roofing knows roofing requires temperatures of 50 degrees or higher for proper sealing of the shingles. The unusually warm days that arrived allowed the roofing job to take place. That was miracle 1. The Sale of Our St. Louis Home Initially, when we placed our house on the market in March , we were planning on a huge challenge in selling the home. We thought to ourselves that selling the house could take several months or possibly a year. We were pleasantly stunned. That was miracle 2. Now the scramble to get jobs in Tennessee was on. The next several weeks were spent doing major deep cleaning and down sizing in preparation of our vacating the house. We had decided we would not pay a moving company thousands of dollars to move used furniture to Tennessee. Consequently, we sold everything. All of our furniture, appliances, and some of our personal items were sold over next few weeks. Finding Our Tennessee Home Because we sold our home much quicker than we expected, we had to kick things in high gear. We applied for a mortgage loan to purchase our new home. The entire loan approval was assuming Janet would relocate and continue business in Tennessee. That was miracle 3. We hurriedly researched realtors in the Maryville Tennessee area and began our search for our new home. Money Was Tight During the Transition After we obtained pre-approval for a mortgage loan in Tennessee, our finances were extremely tight. During the approval process for the loan, any net worth derived from investments could not be accessed. This meant we would have to completely close the company in Missouri and reestablish in Tennessee. After learning this, Janet stopped pursuing new business and began winding down the company. Not doing business meant no income. Consequently, we were forced to temporarily manage solely on the salary from my job at St. One factor of this period of transition is nothing short of incredible. We had just been approved for a mortgage loan based on the earnings potential of Cornerstone Medical Recruiting in Tennessee. Only God could have enabled us to be approved under these circumstances! That was miracle 4. Let The House Shopping Begin When the time came when we knew we would have to spend a few days in the Maryville Tennessee area to do a real estate tour, we made a phone call. We told Devin we were preparing to move to the area and we inquired about good places to stay. Devin gave us the contact information of a sweet lady by the name of Anne. Anne owns a beautiful cabin in an area nearby Maryville called Wears Valley. Wears Valley is breathtakingly beautiful and scenic. All the homes have the mountains as a backdrop in the back yard.
