Fluffy never eats anything that costs less than 50 dollars. He has a really expansive taste. One day Fluffy gets lost. Poor Fluffy walks and walks. He wants his snack, his dinner, his bath and his soft bed. Suddenly he spots a big gray dog, with a big gray nose. The big gray dog chews something. Fluffy tries not to stare, but he is really hungry by now. I am tired, and hungry, and dirty," Fluffy answers. Come into my spa. I am all alone and I need my snack! The big gray dog looks at him and turns back. Bam gives Fluffy some food. At first Fluffy wants to refuse, but he is too hungry. She takes good care of me. I get snacks, food, a bathâ€¦" "Nice girl. I hope to find her. Fluffy falls asleep and dreams of snacks having baths. Continued in story 02â€¦ Golf Fluffy wakes up. He hopes he is in a bad dream, but now he sees this is real. Bam sits beside him. Are you playing Gulf?! But I need to see it to believe it. A dog playing golfâ€¦" Fluffy jumps on his legs and starts running. Where to, little doggie? Where is your golf field? I will find one! Fluffy is very happy. He finds a stick and a can and brings them to Bam. He digs some holes in the ground. Fluffy grabs the stick and just stands there, looking very very serious. Then, after 5 minutes, Fluffy hits the can with his stick. The can rolls and enters a far away hole. He stands long and tall, and waits for the applause. Bam is surprised, "You are actually good! What is your favorite sports? I am hose cucumber. Some people are couch potatoes. It means they sit on the couch and watch TV. I sit by the hose. How did you know? And that was the beginning of a beautiful friendship.

Then you can manipulate the sticker just like any other sticker. Playing around with selfie stickers. Just tap on the sticker that says Hashtag and customize it with your own hashtag. Other people will be able to tap on the sticker and find other photos with the same hashtag. You can also add a hashtag to regular text on your Story and it will be clickable, too. Here are some tips to make adding stickers to your posts easier: Put "Accessories" in the search box to get stickers that can be layered over faces Got some favorite stickers you use over and over? Your recently used stickers will pop up. Peekers are stickers that pop up and disappear. Just type "Peekers" into the search bar to find them. If you want a sticker to stay put in a certain spot on a video or Boomerang you can pin it. Place the sticker then tap and hold it. An option to pin will pop up. You can pin as many stickers as you want in a video. A library of the moving photos will open, provided by Giphy. When you find one that you like, just add it like you would any other sticker. The results may be frightening. Instagram Once you have your stickers added, go crazy with some snappy text. To add text simply tap on the text icon in the upper right side of the screen and tap on your color of choice. Swipe left on the color palette to reveal more options. More about date stickers As I mentioned, older photos from your gallery will automatically get a date sticker. You can move the sticker around by dragging it and you can change its color by tapping on it. Take a photo of whatever, then go to the drawing tool. Choose your color, then place your finger on the photo. The color will slowly fill up the screen until the whole photo is covered. Now you have a blank canvas. Once you have your canvas, you can fill it with polka dots and stripes. Tap on the Drawing Tool, tap on the pointed marker at the top of the screen, choose your color and tap on the three-dots button on the bottom left side of the screen. Toggle the line that appears toward the top of the screen. This will make your marker huge. To make polka dots, just tap your finger on the photo wherever you want them to appear. Hold your finger on the screen to make an even bigger dot. To make stripes, go through the same steps, but choose the angled marker instead of the pointed marker. Then just tap the screen. Perfect little stripes will appear on your photo. Add a little color to your Stories. Take a photo, fill it with color and then erase just a little to reveal bits of the photo underneath, for example. Some Instagrammers are using the polka dots trick to make thought bubbles on their photos. You can do this by creating a large polka dot above the person in the photo and then creating several smaller dots that trail down below the thought bubble. You can fill in the thought bubble using emojis or text. Thought bubbles make you the star of your own comic book. Then, tap the circle icon to cycle through different background colors. You can also tap the camera icon to add a background photo Write a story or just say hello. When adding text to a Story, all you have to do is include the symbol followed by the username to tag someone. If you follow that person, the icon will pop up. Just tap on it and that person will be tagged in your Story. Then, tap on the friend you want to share with, write a message and tap Send. You can also send the Story to a group of people. When you get a Story sent to you, it will come to your Direct inbox. The Direct icon shares Stories with your friends. Instagram Flipping through Stories is pretty easy Navigating through Stories is super simple. While browsing the Stories of your friends, swipe right to go to the previous one, left to go to the next one and tap to skip a photo or video. If you want to linger on one photo, you can pause a story by tapping and holding your finger on the photo. To start the story again, just lift your finger. This also works for video. If you hold your finger too long on a video it will stay paused, even when you lift your finger. To start the video again slide your finger back and forth in short strokes across the screen. You can see Stories on Instagram. Now you can browse them online as well. They appear at the top of the feed. Navigating through the Stories is a little different online than through the app. Click on a Story to watch it. You can add and save Stories using Instagram. How your Story feed is ordered Day in and day out, you may see the same people at the front of your Stories feed. How the feed is ordered depends on a few factors. One thing, as mentioned above, is muting. If you mute a person, their Stories get moved to the last of the feed. They will stay there until they are unmuted. This brings others to the forefront. Another factor is Instagram itself. Instagram has a system that tries to predict what you would like to see, then presents it first. Out of the people you follow -- and that Instagram thinks you want to see -- the Stories are ordered by time. Whoever has posted most recently will be first in the feed. You can also send visual reactions by tapping on the camera icon, and then taking a photo, Boomerang, video or Rewind. You can decorate your image or video reply with stickers, filters and drawings. The sticker can be moved and decorated, too. Replying only works for people who have comments enabled, though. Respond to friends using photos. Want to prevent your mom from seeing that epic Friday night out, for example? Go to your profile and tap the sun symbol on iOS or the three dots Android in the top right of the screen. Select your mother or whoever else you want from the list and tap Done. You can prevent certain people from sending you messages from your Story, too. In Story Settings, select an option from the list. You can choose Everyone, which will let everyone comment, People You Follow to let just those you follow comment and Off to prevent anyone from commenting. From there choose the group of people you would like to hear from.
