Biden has since said that he believes it was a mistake to support the Iraq War because it has been mismanaged by the Bush Administration. In , Biden said, "We can call it quits and withdraw from Iraq but I think that would be a gigantic mistake, or we can set a deadline for pulling out, which I fear will only encourage our enemies to wait us out" equally a mistake. When the committee scheduled hearings in the beginning of August , Scott Ritter , the chief United Nations weapons inspector in Iraq, stated that "Sen. Joe Biden is running a sham hearing. It is clear that Biden and most of the Congressional leadership have pre-ordained a conclusion that seeks to remove Saddam Hussein from power regardless of the facts, and are using these hearings to provide political cover for a massive military attack on Iraq. Rather than continuing the present approach or withdrawing, the plan calls for federalizing Iraq with separate regions for Kurds , Shiites , and Sunnis. A central government would be left in charge of interests such as defending the borders and distributing oil revenues. Guaranteeing Sunnis " who have no oil rights " a proportionate share of oil revenue and reintegrating those who have not fought against Coalition forces. Increase, not end, reconstruction assistance but insist that Arab States of the Persian Gulf fund it and tie it to the creation of a jobs program and to the protection of minority rights. Initiate a diplomatic offensive to enlist the support of the major powers and neighboring countries for a political settlement in Iraq and create an Oversight Contact Group to enforce regional commitments. Begin the phased redeployment of U. The plan, named The Biden- Brownback Resolution, passed the Senate in a nonbinding vote on September 25, , including 26 Republican votes. Biden stated "I am chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Bush , stating that "By any objective fact, Israel is less secure today in the world than it was eight years ago. They will arrive at the right decision that they view as being in their own interests. My support for Israel begins in my stomach, goes to my heart and ends up in my head. I would have never, ever joined this ticket were I not absolutely sure Barack Obama shared my passion. Following the meeting, an AIPAC spokesman stated that "We had a very warm conversation with Senator Biden today, as we have many times throughout the years, about the importance of the U. S-Israel relationship, and we look forward to continuing to work with him in the future. We had an opportunity to express our appreciation for his strong leadership in support of the U. But the notion that somehow if Israel just did the right thing, [the peace process] would work However, in June Democratic debate, he called the situation one of "the three most important things that the next president is going to have to deal with", along with Iran and Iraq. Biden has been a prominent voice calling for "hard-headed diplomacy" with Iran. He wrote in December that "War with Iran is not just a bad option. It would be a disaster. He stated that he voted against the measure out of concern that the Bush administration would misuse the measure to justify a military attack against Iran. Biden stated that "I think Israel would be ill-advised to do that. And so my level of concern is no different than it was a year ago.
