May 13 May 14 The Fox 9 Investigators reporting is based on public records and nearly a dozen government sources who have direct knowledge of what is happening. These sources have a deep fear, and there is evidence to support their concerns, that some of that public money is ending up in the hands of terrorists. Paul International Airport, where mysterious suitcases filled with cash have become a common carry-on. On the morning of March 15, Fox 9 chased a tip about a man who was leaving the country. Travelers can do that, as long as they fill out the proper government forms. The money is usually headed to the Middle East, Dubai and points beyond. The national, go-to expert on what is behind these mysterious money transfers is Glen Kerns. Kerns tracked millions of dollars in cash that was leaving on flights from Seattle. It was coming from Hawalas, businesses used to courier money to countries that have no official banking system. Some immigrant communities rely on Hawalas to send funds to help impoverished relatives back home. How could they possibly come up with such big bucks to transfer back home? In order for the scheme to work, the daycare centers need to sign up low income families that qualify for child care assistance funding. Sometimes, no children would show up. Either way, the center would bill the state for a full day of childcare. But it adds up when you begin to look at how many people were involved. As she was taking her oath of office, she was also under investigation for wire fraud and theft of public money. She used an app on her phone to bill the state of Minnesota for childcare services while she was out of the country. Ali pled guilty to the daycare fraud and in March started serving time in a federal prison. He told the Fox 9 Investigators his agency has 10 daycares currently under active investigation for fraud. Fox 9 has learned dozens more are considered suspicious. According to public records and government sources, most are owned by Somali immigrants. The fraud is so widespread they said, that people buy shares of daycare businesses to get a cut of the huge public subsidies that are pouring in. Government insiders believe this scam is costing the state at least a hundred million dollars a year, half of all child care subsidies. Minnesota started aggressively going after daycare fraud in Back then, it was easier to track the flow of money. Those wire transfers stopped after a few centers were busted. Which brings us back to those mysterious suitcases at Minneapolis-St. Fox 9 asked him how likely it is that some of the money is going towards terrorism? Good sources, from the community leaders," he said. Sources tell Fox 9 fraudsters in other states are now using the Minnesota playbook to rip off millions of public dollars meant to help kids.

This Dime Could Be Worth 1. It has happened to us multiple times: Nonetheless, the value of the coin is undeniable. Typically, the moment is almost euphoric for crazy coin fanatics. But it hardly ever has any real impact. But what if we told you that that coin was worth a fortune? According to a report by Coin Value, there may be some dimes circulating the country that could have a net worth of 1. Yes, you heard that right. And yes, one of those dimes could be in your very own purse or bank account. Although the chances are slim, at least there are some! Read below to find out how you can spot these gems. Some coin collectors are already swooning over the thought. A rusty old coin that can actually have some value? Where do we sign?! Perhaps a former US President bought a snack with that penny, or maybe that dime has gone through the hands of twenty different celebrities. Nonetheless, the value keeps on rocketing. Sometimes, you might stumble upon a nickel that outright looks too interesting to be worthless. Most of the times, the answer is no. But this special dime might actually be equivalent to winning a lottery. Usually, I would only seem logical that quarters are the most valued coins. After all, they do have the highest coin worth. But what you may not know is that some coins which are manufactured to be of a lesser value might actually cost a fortune. Fortunately, for all the coin collectors and lotto fanatic, there might still be a dime in circulation that could actually be worth more than 1. One such dime, manufactured in , could cost a fortune. The dime is profoundly named the S Barber Dime, and its history is just as staggering. He gifted three Barber coins to each of his closest seven friends and gave away three to his daughter. At least nine S Barber coins exist today, and two are even said to still be in circulation. Barber coins are worth a ton of money, but perhaps nothing can be as valuable as this dime. Wait, did you just realize that that ugly rusty old dime in your wallet is the Barber dime? Have a talk with your local coin appraiser. The net worth of the coin will definitely have you shook. Plenty of other valuable coins still exist. Have you ever found a coin so historically significant that it got you some fast cash? If yes, comment your experiences below!
