

Filipinos, in general, are not represented enough in Hollywood. On TV, there have only been a handful of characters that were obviously of Filipino heritage and many only started appearing in the last few years.

Capiz Items Capiz is both a geographical location and the name of a shell that is used largely in interior decorating and for decorative gifts and accessories found in the Philippines. Geographically speaking, Capiz is a province of the Philippines facing the Sibuyan Sea to the north. Capiz shell, which is used for decorative purposes, is the outer shell of the marine mollusk, Placuna placenta, found in the shallow coastal waters of the Philippines. Capiz shells are often flat, semi-transparent with a pearlescent appearance. It is often used to create lampshades or other luminescent objects, such as candle holders, because of its striking appearance when light shines through. However, it is just as common to see the bases of lamps crafted with capiz shell. Capiz is also frequently used as an accent to many household and fashion accessories and is generally considered to be elegant and formal. The decorative purposes of capiz are virtually limitless, and the look it gives depends largely on the quantity used and the accompanying materials, with silver or gold being the most formal and wood being a more casual material combined with capiz. The price range of the Capiz shell products is from Php 100 to 500. The shop is open from 10AM to 9PM daily. Where to find it: Stall Building 11, Ortigas Ave. Offline reading and travel directions: You can carry this article in your mobile device to read offline and create a self-guided walk to visit the venues featured herein with the GPSmyCity App available on iTunes App Store or Google Play Store.

Caviar Dish What better place to put caviar than in a exotic sea shell? And, this exotic sea shell is the mother of pearl sea shell or also called nacre. It is a s an iridescent layer of material which forms the shell lining of many mollusks. Pearl oysters and abalone are both sources of mother of pearl, which is widely used as an inlay in jewelry, furniture, and musical instruments. Mother of pearl comes in several natural colors, and is often bleached and dyed for decorative use. The dye retains the shimmering layers which make mother of pearl so sought after. Any other type of tableware would alter the taste of caviar and distract from its natural flavor. The price range of the caviar dishes is from Php 100 to 500.

Custaroon What do you get when you combine the classic French macaroon and a creamy leche flan? A custaroon is a deliciously unique combination of smooth and creamy flan topped with a chewy, buttery crust. These bite-sized goodies were created by Gigi Gaerlan, a Filipina mom who has a passion for baking. According to Gigi, her custaroon was a product of serendipity. She was trying to bake something else and made a mistake in process and the custaroon was born. Each and every finger-licking, lip-smacking, reach-for-another goodness custaroon that comes out of the kitchen is freshly-baked. So what do you expect for each custaroon? Expect a unique, great tasting dessert that could be eaten alone or with a beverage of their choice - they go very well with coffee and tea. Travelers should expect a Filipino tasting dessert that also appeals to the international market. You can purchase these yummy treats at the Custaroonery parking lot of the St. Pio Chapel Compound, E. The price of custaroon ranges from Php 100 to 500. You can also visit their website at www.custaroonery.com parking lot of the St. Pio Chapel Compound Address: Bagumbayan, Quezon City Website: Philippine Pearls

It is said that the pearl is the queen of gems and the gem of queens. We all know that the pearl is the oldest valued gem, but unlike other gems, it is derived from living organisms, such as mollusks - the oyster. This hard and ideally round and smooth object is naturally produced and is cultivated or harvested. Pearls come in varied colors. In the Philippines you can take fancy in the various colored pearls, such as cream-roses, cream-whites, and assorted yellows and golds. There are cultured pearls and natural pearls. Just a bit of trivia when buying pearls. To know if the pearls that you are buying are real, attempt to scratch or bite the pearl. If the pearl leaves a mark, has a sandy feel and the mark disappears after wiping it, then the pearl is real. The most comprehensive location to purchase cultured or natural pearls is the Greenhills Shopping Center in San Juan City. The price range of pearls is from Php 100 to 500.

Shell-Made Napkin Ring Set We all know that setting a table to establish a mood and set a festive tone is one of the first lessons of successful entertaining. Everything on the table, from the plates to the centerpiece to the table linens and napkin rings, can support your theme. A beach theme using treasures from the sea is creative and personal, and crafting napkin rings from collected shells is a sure bet for creating that seashore feel. In addition, shell-made napkin ring sets are very impressive and expensive looking pieces for table settings. Often found in classy restaurants, these handicrafts are now accessible to those foreign travelers who are looking into impressing their guests at home. These rings sets come in various varieties of seashells. Each shell is carefully polished to create that glossy shine. You can purchase these shell crafts napkin ring sets at Kultura Filipino. Kultura Filipino is the largest Filipino retail chain that offers authentic Philippine crafts. The price of these shell-made napkin ring sets is Php C-5 , Tiendesitas, Pasig City 6.

Bamboo Baul We all know that bamboos are actually the largest members of the grass family. It is also known as the quickest growing plant in the world. The Philippines exposure to bamboo products comes from its trade relations with China which extends back to the s. Filipinos began using bamboo as an alternative construction material. The word baul is a Spanish word referring to a chest or trunk. The Philippines has been a colony of Spain since the s, hence the similarity in the language. The Bamboo Baul is actually a decorative chest, a local version of a treasure chest made out of bamboo shoots. Bamboo bauls come in various sizes. The price of the smallest bamboo baul is Php

Abaca Basket Abaca is a species of banana which is grown as a commercial crop in the Philippines. Once its fibre is harvested, it is called Manila hemp. The fibers are usually used for making twines and ropes. Abaca ropes are very durable, flexible and resistant to salt water damage. Reflecting history and tradition, the abaca basket takes a craft indigenous to the tribes in the Philippines and gives it a clean, sophisticated shape. Abaca baskets come in several forms and sizes. One practical application of this reliable weave is traditional container to be taken along whenever you go to public markets. The price range of the Abaca baskets is from Php

Kamagong Salad Server Most times we look for ways to have our dinner look nice in presentation. This can be achieved with a beautiful salad bowl and server. The server makes it easier to serve your family and dinner guests their salad and it looks nicer than a regular spoon or fork. There are many different types of salad servers that you can purchase. One of them is wood. Wooden salad servers look beautiful with a nice wooden bowl to present your salad in. When our presentation on salads may be lacking, adding a nice wooden bowl and server can turn it into a more eye-pleasing presentation. In the Philippines, Kamagong timber is extremely dense and very famous for its dark colors. A true Filipino ingenuity is harvesting the Kamagong tree and converting its branches into kitchen utensils, such as salad servers. Anyone who has ever owned wood salad servers can tell you, there is just something better and tastier about mixing and serving salads with it. Whether it is the slight absorption of the oils in the dressing or the gentle way the bowl treats the salad leaves, there is a distinctly wonderful flavor to salads mixed in a wooden salad bowl with wooden servers. The price range of the Kamagong salad servers is from Php Salakot Ashtray A salakot is a traditional wide-brimmed hat worn in the Philippines. It is usually made of either rattan or reeds, and is one of the most popular kinds of headwear with the Filipinos, other than the iconic conical Asian hat. Some Filipino artist were inspired to create decorative pieces from it, e. An ashtray is a decorative solution to keep it clean in the household. Another reason is, traditionally, that Filipino men love to smoke as many of the indigenous tribes of the Philippine northern provinces produce tobacco as a means of trade. In fact, all these wooden ashtrays are made and handcrafted by the indigenous tribes from the Cordillera Region – the Igorots, specifically from the City of Baguio. Wooden ashtrays are not always depicted in traditional Filipino hats. There are many kinds of wooden ashtrays. For example, the quadruple head ashtray, the cobra ashtray, the human head ashtray, the coffee mug ashtray and the most humorous of them all - the Phallic ashtray. This ashtray is the most unique of them all.

Chapter 2 : Manila - Wikipedia

No Filipinos were hurt in the magnitude earthquake that hit northern Hokkaido on Friday morning. This was confirmed by Ambassador to Japan Jose Laurel V even as the Philippine Embassy continues to monitor the situation of the 1, Filipinos in the island which was also jolted by an earthquake on September 6.

Precolonial history[edit] The Laguna Copperplate Inscription is the oldest historical record in the Philippines. It has the first historical reference to Tondo and dates back to Saka c. Rajah Sulayman The earliest evidence of human life around present-day Manila is the nearby Angono Petroglyphs , dated to around BC. Negritos , the aboriginal inhabitants of the Philippines, lived across the island of Luzon , where Manila is located, before the Malayo-Polynesians migrated in and assimilated them. The Tondo district was the traditional capital of the empire, and its rulers were sovereign kings, not mere chieftains. The rajahnate was ruled under and gave yearly tribute to the Sultanate of Brunei as a satellite state. He established a trading challenge to the already rich House of Lakan Dula in Tondo. Islam was further strengthened by the arrival of Muslim traders from the Middle East and Southeast Asia. The victorious Spaniards made Manila, the capital of the Spanish East Indies and of the Philippines, which their empire would control for the next three centuries. In , Manila was temporarily besieged by the Chinese pirate Lim Hong , who was ultimately thwarted by the local inhabitants. Silver that was mined in Mexico and Peru was exchanged for Chinese silk , Indian gems and the spices of Southeast Asia. An unknown number of Indian soldiers known as sepoy , who came with the British, deserted and settled in nearby Cainta, Rizal , which explains the uniquely Indian features of generations of Cainta residents. The First Philippine Republic , based in nearby Bulacan , fought against the Americans for control of the city. Upon drafting a new charter for Manila in June , the Americans made official what had long been tacit: The new charter proclaimed that Manila was composed of eleven municipal districts: Later, two more would be added: Balut and San Andres. The planned buildings included a government center occupying all of Wallace Field, which extends from Rizal Park to the present Taft Avenue. The Philippine Capitol was to rise at the Taft Avenue end of the field, facing toward the sea. Japanese occupation and World War II[edit] The destruction brought about by the Battle of Manila in During the Japanese occupation of the Philippines , American soldiers were ordered to withdraw from Manila, and all military installations were removed on December 24, General Douglas MacArthur declared Manila an open city to prevent further death and destruction, but Japanese warplanes continued to bomb it. Manila was occupied by Japanese forces on January 2, Some , civilians were killed in February. It was the second most devastated city in the world, after Warsaw , during the Second World War. Almost all of the structures in the city, particularly in Intramuros, were destroyed. Rizal Avenue in the s before the construction of LRT Line 1 In , President Elpidio Quirino moved the seat of government of the Philippines to Quezon City , a new capital in the suburbs and fields northeast of Manila, created in during the administration of President Manuel L. With the Visayan-born Arsenio Lacson as its first elected mayor in all mayors were appointed before this , Manila underwent The Golden Age, [57] once again earning its status as the "Pearl of the Orient", a moniker it earned before the Second World War. Mayors Lacson, Villegas, and Bagatsing are collectively known as the "Big Three of Manila" for their contribution to the development of the city and their lasting legacy in improving the quality of life and welfare of the people of Manila. During the administration of Ferdinand Marcos , the region of Metro Manila was created as an integrated unit with the enactment of Presidential Decree No. The area encompassed four cities and thirteen adjoining towns , as a separate regional unit of government. She started the rejuvenation of the city as she re-branded Manila as the " City of Man ". After decades of resistance, the non-violent People Power Revolution predecessor to the peaceful-revolutions that toppled the iron-curtain in Europe , ousted the authoritarian Marcos from power. During his early years, his administration was faced with million pesos worth of debt and inherited an empty treasury. Lopez closed down numerous illegal gambling joints and jueteng. In January , Lopez padlocked two Manila casinos operated by the Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation PAGCOR , saying the billions it gained cannot make up for the negative effects gambling inflicts upon the people, particularly the youth. In , Alfredo Lim was elected mayor, the first Chinese-Filipino to hold the office. He was known for his anti-crime crusades. Lim was succeeded by Lito Atienza , who served as his vice mayor. The relationship of both parties turned bitter, with the two pitting again during the city elections in which Lim won against Atienza. Lim was sued by councilor Dennis Alcoreza on over human rights , [63] charged with graft over the rehabilitation of public schools, [64] and was heavily criticized for his haphazard resolution of the Rizal Park hostage taking incident , one of the deadliest hostage crisis in the Philippines. In , the city became the most competitive city in the Philippines, making the city the best place for doing business and for living in. However, despite these achievements, Estrada only narrowly won over Lim in their electoral rematch in Out of the three cities reviewed by the Supreme Court, namely: The committee has not yet decided on the federal capital and states that they are open to other proposals.

Chapter 3 : Manila Shopping: 20 Filipino Goods To Bring Home

If you're with your crush or on a Sunday family date, choosing any from the best Filipino restaurants in Manila is a foolproof choice. The hint of nostalgia in the air will surely pull out new and old memories.

Luckily there are more than enough options to get laid in the capital and I have described them all in the nightlife guide. Just like in every other major city in the Philippines, there are three different types of girly bars in Manila: In this top list you will find four bikini bars and one sports bar, and they are all located in the four different red light districts of Manila. You can find the exact locations of all mentioned bars at the end of the guide.

Bottoms P Burgos Street This is without doubt the most famous girly bar in all of Manila and there are three reasons for it: Firstly, it has a prime location right in the center of P Burgos Street which is the number one nightlife area for tourists. And thirdly, they simply have the hottest girls. Bottoms has two stages, one smaller one for girls and a bigger one for girls dancing. They are surrounded by a good mix of bar stools with tables as well as comfortable couches – especially the ones in the back are great to get a full overview of the whole bar, and they are extremely comfortable, too. As soon as you walk into that place you will be accompanied by about half a dozen of excited and giggling girls who make the impression as that they awaited your arrival for weeks. Entertainment at its best at High Heels but of course the girls do know very well how to suck the money out of the tourists. They will ask you to buy lady drinks for the whole group but of course you can decline so they will leave or just buy a drink for one of them and then the others will likely continue to work on you while hoping for a tip. What she meant by that is going into one of the short time rooms , but of course it all has its price – room rental, bar fine, price for sex, price for drinks. You can go there at any night of the week and will find easily more than ! And all that without paying overpriced lady drinks and bar fines. Not sure what happens if you exceed the 28 minutes. You can already feel that by just looking at the bar from outside see picture: There are a couple of great pool tables, a small stage where girls dance every once in a while, a big bar that makes a good spot to meet other travelers and expats and many neat seating niches on the sides of the bar – all amid the jungle-like setup with artificial trees, plants and wood all around, hence the name Amazonia Bar. It has one big stage with up to 20 girls dancing at a time. But you never know, it is possible that you will find a cutie right at 6pm and then it can be a really good deal. They also have a few VIP rooms upstairs with views down to the stage which are popular mostly among Korean and Japanese customers. Just talk with the Mamasan which girl you like or one of the waitresses or simply call the girl over yourself , they are all very polite here and might also offer you a discount for 2 girls if you are looking to try out a threesome. Pit Stop across opposite is the second best bar in EDSA after Cotton Club so you can check that one out in case the hottest girls have already been taken when you arrive.

Chapter 4 : Little Manila - Wikipedia

Manila Shopping: 20 Filipino Goods To Bring Home An archipelago of 7,+ islands, The Philippines is a diverse nation populated by different tribes, each having their own culture and traditions. In Manila, one can find a whole lot of things worth keeping as a Filipino memento; it just might take one a little while to figure out what's best and.

To a lesser extent, Filipino communities are also present in Nassau , Suffolk , and Rockland counties. This section needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed. This area attracts many local Filipinos and non-Filipinos alike and from neighboring places of Long Island , Connecticut , Pennsylvania , and New Jersey. Other Filipino-owned businesses including professional services medical, dental, optical , driving schools, beauty salons, immigration services, and video rental places providing the latest movies from the Philippines dot the community. It is known just as the Philippine Center instead of the consulate. The building itself is considered as the largest foreign consulate on the strip of the avenue. It is also said to be one of the largest parades of any kind in the city and the largest Philippine celebration in the United States. Madison Avenue bursts on this day with Filipino culture, colors and people and is attended by many important political figures, entertainers, civic groups, etc. The burgeoning Little Manila centered on 1st Avenue and 14th Street, around which there were, at the peak, a number of grocer and video rental stores and Filipino restaurants within a few blocks of one another. Filipino American community relations were strengthened by local Roman Catholic churches in the East Village and Gramercy area. New Filipino business continue to sprout up. Officially designated as the "Church of Filipinos," or the Chapel of San Lorenzo Ruiz is the second in the United States and only the third in the world dedicated as such. This number may have been closing in to the , level, in , due to a high birth rate among Filipino Americans and 8, Filipino immigrants annually. The Meadowlands Exposition Center in Secaucus hosts the annual Philippine Fiesta , a cultural event that draws Filipinos and non-Filipinos alike from across the New York metropolitan area. The event takes place on the weekend of the second week of August. The largest Filipino-owned grocery store on the east coast Phil-Am Food has been there since An array of Filipino-owned businesses can also be found at the section of West Side where many of its residents are of Filipino descent. A memorial, dedicated to the Filipino American veterans of the Vietnam War, was built in a small square on Manila Avenue. A park and statue dedicated to Jose P. Rizal , the national hero of the Philippines, exists in downtown Jersey City. The City Hall of Jersey City raises the Philippine flag in correlation to this event and as a tribute to the contributions of the Filipino community. The Santacruzian Procession along Manila Avenue has taken place since Red Ribbon , a popular bakeshop in the Philippines, will open its second branch in Bergenfield, after Jersey City. Oregon[edit] Portland and Beaverton[edit] Portland is considered as a focal point of Filipino businesses. There are Filipino restaurants and stores in Portland and Beaverton. One Filipino restaurant is called "Tambayan Restaurant and Mart". Its geographic confines contain as many as , Filipinos census [61] and receives a yearly 4, new Filipino immigrants. It is celebrating the Filipino Centennial, which commemorates years of Filipino immigration and contributions to the state. Many of them are immigrants of the Philippines, and the streets of Waipahu have many small Filipino-owned businesses. The article also references the following cities as having a surge of new Filipino immigration:

Chapter 5 : Latest Philippines Headlines, Breaking News, Media & Sports News | blog.quintoapp.com

Islas Pinas is a Filipino food village and heritage park located near the Manila airport exactly at G/F DoubleDragon Plaza DD Meridian Park Pasay City, Philippines. It is an indoor Filipino Food.

I believed that in any competition, someone has to lose so that one can win. I believed in winning since my early exposures in competitions and quiz bees way back in the 90s. When we compete, the goal is always to win. The winners always take it all—the trophy, the medals, the honor. You can try again next time. So we would join the competition again. This time, we believed we are better and therefore would have a greater chance of winning. Regardless of the result, people would always have something to say whether we win or lose. All our lives, we are made to believe in winning. That, should we want to really be happy, we have to win. Winning is sometimes enough. Losing means you are weak, unprepared, disorganized. You are less when you lose, they say. So every now wants to win. Whatever happens, the goal is to win. Yes, sometimes whatever it takes. Today, allow me to say what I discovered. But we can only learn. When we were still in pre-school, we were told to pass to enter the primary school. And then we were told to go through another six years so we can go to high school. And then we were told to study for another four years or more so we can either get a job or start our own business. In all those years, have we won? We won in different levels. We got our diplomas and marched during the graduation rites. But have you also noticed that this is a never-ending game? That whatever you do, how much you believe you are winning, you are always on to another game? That however good and worthy you have become, you will end up starting a brand new level again. That every now and then, something new is about to begin and that this life is a never-ending game? It may appear that we are winning but in truth, we are not. We are just learning. And even losers get the same chance to learn. That explains why some losers now become winners of tomorrow and some winners now become losers in the future. Whatever we do, we will have to take another game and that will happen until our last day. But every day in every game, big or small, we have the opportunity to learn. You just have to learn. Share this post http: He has authored ten inspirational best-selling books and has spoken to more than half a million people across Asia. Umbrella is a personal development company in Manila, Philippines that provides motivational keynote speakers on sales conventions and other corporate events in Asia. It also offers corporate training, business consultancy, and organizational development programs.

Chapter 6 : Top 5 Best Girly Bars in Manila | Philippines Redcat

The Filipinos in Manila Philippines: Hardships in Life, the Philippine Society. Film about Poverty Poor Filipinos: Travel to the Real Philippines and Meet Emman, the Junk Collector.

Chapter 7 : Korea: No transit visa for Filipinos - Travel Blog | Whystopover

Whether it's a Sunday lunch with the family or a dinner with balikbayan relatives, going to a Filipino restaurant to eat and talk for hours on end is usually the default, no-brainer choice. With the restaurant industry thriving in Manila, the challenge is figuring out just where to go!