Fairy News 0 Big News! I could use your help in various ways. Keep an eye open for that announcement. Registration is already online. Lots of kinds of help are needed. Certainly the nature fairies think it is a grand idea. The Global Earth Repair Conference GERC aims to bring together earth repair practitioners, indigenous people, farmers, scientists and grassroots organizers. The goal is to outline what the world needs to do to restore the entire world biosphere one little piece at a time. GERC will bring together a lot of experts in earth regeneration. There will be many themes and tracks at the conference and one of them will be on communication and cooperation with nature intelligences on earth repair projects. Getting advice from fairies for ecosystem restoration projects. We could call it a grassroots, ecosystem restoration conference. The Perelandra method was developed by Machaelle Small Wright in Virginia partially as a tool for gardeners and farmers to get information from nature spirits. Working with the nature spirits to attain best garden production. One of her books is Perelandra Garden Workbook: The Perelandra material also outlines how to do land clearings of negative energy. We are not talking about land clearing in terms of cutting down trees. How to reduce, mitigate get rid of negative energies. Land can get imprinted with things like battlefields, atrocities, massacres, tragedies, anger, hatred, grief, etc. Clearing these energies can help land become more healthy. Julie Charette Nunn, who has also presented at the Fairy Congress is developing a presentation for the earth repair conference. We could use a few more presenters along these lines. Depending on interest we will schedule some round-table discussions or a working group on cooperating with nature intelligences for earth repair. Exact wording to be developed. The Earth and all of its lifeforms, landforms and waters are sacred and intelligent. They deserve our respect and we humans should communicate and cooperate with them in this grand work of Earth regeneration. To this end, we seek indigenous representatives to attend the GERC and to bring their perspectives and knowledge. We invite them to contribute to sacred ceremony and song at the event, to give presentations and attend sessions. We seek to raise funds specifically to bring some representatives to GERC. We hope that many more will participate at a distance through the internet. There will be ways for them to comment, communicate and contribute before, during and after the conference via the internet. We especially want to involve indigenous people who are actively doing earth repair and ecosystem restoration on their lands with their communities. We acknowledge that indigenous people in general are discriminated against and their land rights often violated for earth-destroying activities like oil, hydroelectric dams, mining, illegal logging, etc. Securing land rights and the end of oppression are necessary for earth restoration and we should support their struggles against these negative forces as well as provide support for their self-determined earth repair activities. We do have contact with some indigenous folks here in the Pacific Northwest, but not so much beyond here.. We could use help with indigenous connections if anyone has ideas. We have been talking to some people from Native American tribes, but have just begun this outreach. It would have been good to have local Native people involved with planning from the start but we are now in the process of contacting the local tribes and some from beyond. We are starting from humble beginnings so it will take some months to gradually reach more indigenous people from this region and internationally. Youth and indigenous people are both necessary for global earth repair to be successful. Here is an article on indigenous peoples struggle for protecting the land and their cultures. Indigenous Peoples are fighting to save the earth for all of us This scenario is not fictitious. It is a reality for many of the million people worldwide who identify as Indigenous Peoples. If there could be a simple way to define them, we can agree that they are the living descendants of the pre-colonized inhabitants of lands now dominated by others.
