Rainbowcat is a sort-of new user, in the sense that while the account was registered a while ago, they were mostly inactive until last month. Most of their contributions since then have been to add superhero and supervillain categories to various character articles. Would anyone be willing to coach them in the proper way to go about this, to prevent all the reverting and edit warring that has been going on over this? Rainbowcat looks like User: Brian Boru is awesome keeps on removing infobox for the multiple teams in the Defenders comics. I have tried talking to him on this matter before and I have left a message on his talk page. Can an administrator lock the page. If he keeps this up he should probably be blocked for a limited amount of time. Brian Boru is awesome talk And while BBiA hit the 3 revert mark in a 24hr period and apparently stopped, Spshu has 4 in the same span. And I figured that he could have been right on whatever he is doing. But the apparent reason here behind the removals makes sense. And looking at the entirety of the situation neither BBiA nor Spshu come to this clean. There is an apparent history of them rubbing each other wrong. The extension of the edit war to one of the two breaching the letter of 3RR. And this appears to be a fight that has been off and on for at least 2 years. So, your finding me to be at fault too is unwarrant. I came here to request a lock on the page so it would not get to 3RR, so perhaps then the administrators in this project is at fault then based on your logic. I have put forth a compromise on the Defenders talk page , but no takers on BBiA or any one else who want to enforce it. So I discuss a potential solutin not just complains about his lack of response. With the lack of action of administrator intervent with BBiA and with massive personal attack on me at the Talk: J Greb, BBiA give a "non"reason for his edits. With one infobox you get some sort of mash up as the box is edit with the various version information gets written over other versions as I have seen take place on that article. Kudos to both of you for finally deciding to use the proper venue to start hashing this out. I pointed to the long standing issue to make clear that neither of you is dealing with this well. And looking at what you brought here, I would have been within bounds of blocking both of you for edit warring on the article last night if the issue were pushed - you both know better. As for knowing better - the general procedure for contested edits is WP: Your edit was reverted - contested - you should have posted what you wanted to change and why to the talk page, not fought on with the reverts. So I am in the wrong because I could force him to come to the talk page to discuss it and I discuss the issue with others. I made a request to have the article locked which an adminstrator did before during the last edit war, so it seem like the thing to do this time and that did bring him to the talk page. No one has ever pointed to the WP: BRD page to me since I got here and the non-article "space" of Wikipedia has poor structure when I have tried to navigate around. Discussion can easily be move from one talk page to another. And it looks like the BRD is a newer page, a replacement page for others. Similar to Harley Quinn , though Quinn has the benefit of not requiring a dab. I would move to have it put back to The Escapist character.
