Washington County, Pennsylvania, marriages, by Michelle Weister, , Closson Press edition, in English.

If either applicant is under eighteen 18 years of age, consent of a parent or guardian of that person must be obtained at the time the Application for Marriage License is completed. A parent or guardian must be present with the applicant and must be prepared to present appropriate identification. Guardians must be prepared to present documents proving guardianship appointment of a said child. The certified copy of the decree in divorce must be furnished at the time the application for Marriage License is completed. A widow or widower must provide the date of death of their former spouse. Provided all the above-mentioned requirements have been complied with, a marriage license will be issued as follows: License issued not before Thursday Tuesday: License issued not before Friday Wednesday: License issued not before Monday Thursday: License issued not before Monday Friday: A marriage license issued in this county is valid for sixty 60 days from the date of issue and is valid anywhere in Pennsylvania. After sixty 60 days, an issued marriage license is void and should be returned to the Marriage License Bureau for cancellation. An official public record of the marriage will not exist if the officiant performing the marriage ceremony fails to return the duplicate Certificate of Marriage within ten 10 days after the solemnization of the marriage, as required by law. The fee for a Marriage License is: Persons qualified to solemnize marriages. The following are authorized to solemnize marriages between persons that produce a marriage license issued under this part: A justice, judge or district justice of this Commonwealth. A former or retired justice, judge or district justice of this Commonwealth who is serving as a senior judge or a senior district justice as provided or prescribed by law. A mayor of any city or borough of this Commonwealth. A minister, priest or rabbi of any regularly established church or congregation. Every religious society, religious institution or religious organization in this Commonwealth may join persons together in marriage when at least one of the persons is a member of the society, institution or organization, according to the rules and customs of the society, institution or organization. No person or religious organization qualified to perform marriages shall officiate at a marriage ceremony without the parties having obtained a marriage license issued under this part.
