Come for a short day retreat or stay for the night, weekend or week! Book a farm stay in conjunction with a farm skills or fiber class to take while you are here. Bring clothes you can get dirty if you plan to join in on whatever farm work is happening on the days of your visit. Bring a bathing suit to lounge in our stock-tank wood-fired hot tub or go swimming in our municipal pool. Bring waders for trout fishing, bikes for riding, boots for hiking. Our charming old farmhouse is a great joy to us. Our adorable second floor is yours to use. We have two guest rooms; each with a double and a twin bed. In between, there is a large bathroom with shower and tub. Our style is a 40s-vintage vibe and we love love love antique linens. Our beds are loaded with quilts, down pillows and layers of crisp cotton. The camper is stocked with board games and you are free to play outside on the picnic tables by the prairie. Get up early and you can help us pick the raspberries, peaches, plums, apples, strawberries or pears for the meal! You can even help us milk the goats. The hosts make you feel completely at home, and are very thoughtful and accommodating. The farm house is an artful and cozy space that becomes a relaxing retreat after a day of roaming the farm and getting to know the animals and the property. The hosts are eager to include you in farm activities if you are so inclined which I was, or happy to give you space and privacy if you prefer. We were greeted with a friendly dog running up the road when we arrived and left with great memories. Corny perhaps, but true. Visitors have done everything from participate in sheep round-ups to building and painting barns and sheds. Your family might enjoy wandering among the animals on pasture digging up thistle or other invasive species. There are always hooves to trim, fleeces to wash, and flower beds that need weeding. We have local canoe and kayak rentals available for exploring the beautiful Pecatonica River which borders our property. We steward a wetland and a trout stream, with small ponds for heron-watching, and lots of lovely walks in every direction on either paved roads or sand paths. There is a boat launch across the street and you can jump right into the creek there and swim. Evening activities include soaks in the fire-heated hot tub, cozy visits in front of the sitting-room woodstove and marshmallow roasts over the campfire. Just a minute walk away, our tiny town boasts three bars and a diner, in addition to a swimming pool, tennis courts, and basketball court. We have an antique store and a home goods store that hosts sign-painting parties. Most weekends you can hear live music in one of the bars or in the park pavilions. If you are interested in some of the challenging and gorgeous Road Riding we have around here, we will pick you up at your finish line. Learn We love when folks come out to stay for a couple of nights and take classes during the day. Intensive immersion classes are a great way to learn and we feel we can really pass on a lot of information and skills in these settings. Our areas of expertise include beginning gardening and market farming, as well as beginning and intermediate woolcraft: We also teach classes in soapmaking, herbal scrubs, decoupage, and up-cycled accessories. Our leisurely on-farm classes often include wine, cheese and other age-appropriate snacks. See what classes we have to offer and call us to create a custom curriculum for your stay. Book as a group of 3 or more and get discounted class rates. A Little Tour of the Farm:
